Introduction

The first step in founding a school for secondary education was taken by the citizens of Boston on April 29, 1635. These citizens founded the Boston Latin Grammar school. In New York in 1787 schools were made a part of a state system of education. From 1780-1850 about six thousand schools were established in the States.

The system of education began in Indiana with the state Constitution of 1816. The Legislature in 1835 enacted a law permitting free schools in Indiana. In Auburn, the Academy was built in 1858, and another building in 1876. The present high school building was erected in 1918.

A widespread and efficient system of secondary education has been one of America's contributions to world culture. Our high schools have been not only a narrative in the great American dream but have been the biggest factor in making that dream come true.

Prologue

Since this is the three-hundredth anniversary of the founding of high schools in the United States, we saw it fitting to publish our yearbook in honor of the occasion.

The history of our educational system is much discussed, not only by the students of schools all over the country but also by leading men of the times. It is a live modern topic.

Americans live in and think about their schools more than any other people. We start to school at the age of six years and spend the formative years of life in the school room. Thus are the schools the foundation of all men and women.

Because we wished our readers to remember again the days of the Hoosier schoolboys and schoolmasters this book has used the theme, The Tercentenary of American High Schools.

The New Harrison School

This year's Freshman class is the first group to have attended this new building.

The Junior High School

All classes experienced their pre-high school days here. It is the oldest school building in Auburn.

The High School

Through these portals many pass into the great school of life--but they never forget the joyous days in the McIntosh building.

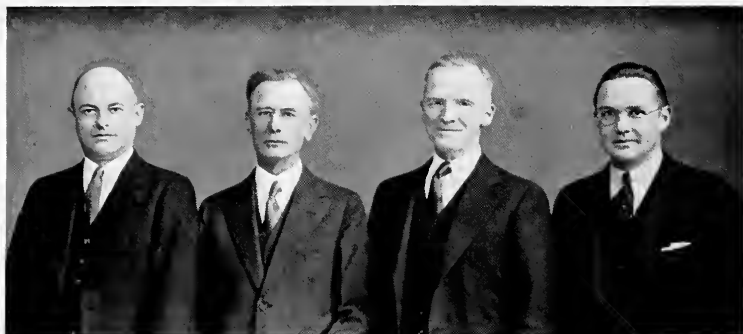

The Masters and Scholars

Administration and Student Body

The difference between teacher and students of then and now is largely due to the manner in which the subjects are taught. This difference makes a change in the pupil's attitude toward the teachers and toward their studies. Now the teachers and students come to know each other better and because of this we are able to present the Administration and Student Body combined.

SCHOOL BOARD

The local administration of Auburn schools is carried on by the School Board. The members are appointed by the city council and they in turn appoint the superintendent of the schools who is the executive officer. This group makes the budget for the schools and regulates them accordingly with the state laws

This year the members are D. M. Link, Hugh Carper, and A. V. Hines. Their executive officer is H. L. McKenney.

It is the duty of this group to make up the budget for the Auburn schools. They have, so far, out-classed many large cities in the management of the school system, for our teachers have not missed a pay day and the schools have run full time.

Mr. Link, capable lawyer and former judge, is the president of the Board.

Mr. Carper, the assistant cashier at the City National Bank, is the secretary of the Board. He is also a past school teacher and a sport enthusiast.

Dr. Hines, surgeon and physician, is the treasurer.

Mr. McKenney has been the superintendent of the Auburn schools since 1923. He is capable and well liked by student and patron.

For the guidance of the exceptionally capable School Board, the school, both students and faculty, wishes to express sincerest appreciation.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

MILDRED ABEL

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2; Home Ec. Club 1, 2, 3.

Give Mildred her Plymouth, a good stretch of pavement and then watch out—for that girl will go places.

LEE ANDERSON

A. H. S. 2, 3, 4; A. A. 2, 3, 4; Class President 3, 4; History Club 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Honor Group 3, 4; Interscholastic Group 9; Commercial Group 4; Noon League Basketball 4.

Brains plus a good disposition is what makes Lee the popular class president that he is.

MARJORIE BARR

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; G. A. A. 3, 4; Home Ec. Club 1, 2, 3; History Club 3, 4.

Latin is a tough subject. If you don't believe it ask Marjorie, she knows. Marjorie is known for her determination to finish a thing she has started.

HELEN BASSEN

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; A. A. 3, 4; Girl's Hi-Y 1, 2; History Club 3, 4; Girl's Chorus 1, 2; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Operetta 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; County Chorus 2, 3; Interscholastic Group 2; Commercial Group 4.

Helen is that very tall, blonde senior girl whose favorite instrument is the violin and who has been a member of most of the musical organizations in school.

In the good old days Charles had a Ford that was the talk of the school. Now his hobby seems to be music.

CARL RANNEY

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Although "Bid" found it difficult to get to school on time in the morning, he has been an excellent student.

JACK RATRIE

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; History Club 3; Annual Staff 4; Art Editor 4; Art 1, 4.

Jack's best work was accomplished in the field of art. In fact the remarkable art work in this annual may be accredited to him.

L. JAY RENZ

His excellent talks before the student body have made "Stumpie" quite prominent. He is also known for his athletic ability.

NORMA UPDIKE

A. H. S. 4; A. A. 4; History Club 4; Discussion 4; Interscholastic Group 4; Jr.-Sr. Play 4; Annual Staff 4; Honor Group 4; Home Ec. Club 4.

Although she has been here with us only a year Norma has made a good record in that short time. She entered into many activities.

JOYCE WAGGONER

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls Hi-Y 1, 2; Home Ec. Club 1.

Another jolly member of the Senior class is Joyce. She is a constant companion of Esther Nagle.

LAUREN WALTER

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Honor Group 2; History Club 3, 4; Jr.-Sr. Play 3, 4; Operetta 3.

Lauren has done outstanding work in dramatics, especially as the villain in "Drums of Death." In addition he has been a loyal member of the History Club.

MARIE WILSON

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Home Ec. Club 1, 2, 4; Vice President 4; Noon League Basketball 1, 2; Interclass Volleyball 4; Interclass Basketball 4.

Marie is one of the most jolly yet most quiet members of the Senior class. She is well liked by her circle of friends.

CLASS OFFICERS

At the beginning of each school year, the classes hold meetings for the purpose of electing officers and sponsors for the following year.

The Freshmen meeting is always supervised by Mr. Fribley and after the President has been elected, charge of the procedure is given to him.

The Freshmen elected as their officers: Pierre Talbert, President; Rex Renz, Vice President; Betty Mavis, Secretary; Elizabeth Brown, Treasurer; and Mr. C. M. Gump, Faculty Advisor.

The Sophomores chose: Lavern Beckberger, President; Juanita Shimer, Vice President; Geneva Rinehold, Secretary; Luella Tallen, Treasurer; and Miss Armstrong as Advisor.

The Juniors picked as their leaders: Robert Buchanan, President; Richard Fink, Vice President; Robert Nelson, Secretary; and Marjorie Holben, Treasurer. They again chose Mr. Lloyd Miller as sponsor.

The Seniors again elected Lee Anderson as President to guide them through their last year. To help him were: Mahlon Rieke, Vice President; Doris Coyle, Secretary; and Georgia Vachon, Treasurer. They again chose Mr. Weathers as Class Advisor.

Under the able guidance of the student-executive group the school year was successfully carried through.

JUNIOR CLASS

This lively bunch of students elected for their officers this year: Bob Buchanan, Dick Fink, Marjorie Holben, and Bob Nelson. They chose Mr. Miller as class sponsor.

Those on the year honor roll are: Nelson, Hoff, Buchanan, Peele, and Fribley.

Last year as Sophomores this class elected T. Mason, G. Shull, J. Hoff and R. Williams for their officers. The year before that they elected R. Nelson, J. Hoff, D. Miller, and E. Fribley.

Those who have appeared on the year honor groups of those first two years were: R. Nelson, E. Fribley, R. Buchanan, G. Shull, and N. Garman.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

This year's Sophomore class has been represented in practically every school activity.

Luella Tallen was a member of the double quartette, Lavern Beckberger entered the district algebra contest at Fort Wayne, Jack Smith and Raymond Thomas entered the geometry contest and Hubert Hines, Ted Winebrenner, Franklin Gingrich, Wayne Cripe, Chris Burns, and Gervase Hess are a few of the athletes.

Those on the Honor Group this year were: Shimer, Smith, Thomas, and Beckberger.

The class officers for this year were: Beckberger, president; Shimer, vice president; Rinehold, secretary; and Tallen, treasurer. The Sophomores chose Miss Armstrong for class sponsor.

FRESHMAN CLASS

In the fall of 1934 Auburn High welcomed a new group of students. These Freshmen have been quite outstanding.

Elizabeth Brown was a member of the Double Quartette, Martha Close was entered in the District Algebra Contest at Fort Wayne, the Freshman basketball team created quite a stir at Noon League games, many Freshmen were members of Glee Club and the two choruses and several were in the operetta.

Those Freshmen on the Honor Group were: June Kuhlman, Martha Close, Willis Engle, Pierre Talbert, and Mary Ellen Hines.

Their class officers were: Pierre Talbert, Rex Renz, Betty Mavis, and Elizabeth Brown. Mr. Gump was their sponsor.

SUMMARY OF ADMINISTRATION

School opened last September with 370 students, and about twenty more came in during the year. The Freshman class was the largest with one hundred fourteen members and the seniors the smallest with sixty-three.

One new teacher, Miss Haynes, was added last fall, to take the place of Mrs. Baxter in the physical education department. Boys Chorus was added to the program of classes and the leadership of the Orchestra was transferred to Mr. Wilcox so as to make time available to Miss McKinney to train the boy singers.

Due to the increased number of students taking bookkeeping, it was necessary to organize two classes. These were both taught by Mr. Gump. Senior English decreased to one class. The advanced Latin class studied Cicero this year and will take Vergil next. The book class in Health, organized for those students physically unable to take active gymnasium work, was reduced to but three or four girls this year.

The hour period of directed study, installed last year, was continued this year. This method replaced the conventional forty minute recitation. No general revision of textbooks took place.

No public speaking class, no newspaper, and less attention to declamation and music in contests continued this year, as set a couple of years ago when the teaching staff was reduced.

The Almanac

School Life

In the olden days, 'Readin'', 'Ritin'', and 'Rithmetick' made up the school subjects. In those days nothing happened to give the student time to lift himself from his studies and give his mind a rest. The studies were the same day in and out, and no programs broke the dull monotony of school life. Those drab days are gone forever and in their place in the modern school are diversions which hold the interest of the pupil. All of these diversions we gather under School Life.

SEPTEMBER

Three hundred fifty-nine students enrolled in the McIntosh High School on September 8, 1934. The Freshman class enrollment of 114 exceeded that of any previous year, while the Senior class was one of the smallest.

A fortnight before the opening game with Decatur, "Zeke" began whipping up a football squad. Fortunately, several members from last year's eleven were retained, so a series of victories was expected.

Two weeks after the opening of school, Miss Leota Haynes was named the Girl's Physical Education teacher for the Auburn Schools. She hailed from Indianapolis and as a result of her training and wide experience new gymnastic methods were introduced.

Under the supervision of Mr. Coar Noon League Baseball was organized for those who wished to participate.

The Athletic Association elected Bud Phillips as Business Manager of the football squad for the coming season.

Along with the second week of school came the class elections. The Seniors chose Lee Anderson, president; Mahlon Rieke, vice president; Doris Coyle, secretary; and Georgia Vachon, treasurer. Mr. Weathers acted as class sponsor. The three underclasses also selected capable leaders. Bob Buchanan headed the Junior officers, Lavern Beckberger the Sophomores, and Pierre Talbert the Freshman.

Once again the students put their heads together, and decided that Harold Stump, Mary Carper, and Mr. Schooley should guide the Athletics Association.

OCTOBER

Although warm, hazy days were discouraging to study, October found the students gradually adjusting themselves to their new classes and studies.

The basketball schedule for the 1934-35 games was announced with a total of 18 games, 10 of which were home games.

A two day's vacation was awarded to the weary students while the teachers attended the North Eastern Indiana Association.

The first social event of the year was held when the Freshmen were cordially welcomed into the student body by the annual reception. The gymnasium was appropriately decorated in red and white, the Freshman colors. The Seniors presented a fine program and the Juniors completed the evening's entertainment by serving refreshments.

Our musical gals trooped to Garrett where they participated in the DeKalb County Girl's Chorus.

The gala event of the year! The Auburn Red Devils scored 14 points against the Garrett Railroaders, who were held scoreless.

The first period honor roll, containing 41 names, was published.

Howard McKenney and Darrell Grosh, as representatives of the Auburn High School, attended the Indiana High School Press Convention at Franklin where they received the award "All Indiana" for the 1934 Follies, the second highest rating possible.

The Junior Carnival attracted a large crowd to celebrate Hallowe'en in the little gymnasium. The financial success of the event was proved by a $60 profit.

Mr. Hornaday's Vocational Agricultural Classes climaxed the awards and victories of October by winning several prizes at the muck crops exhibit.

NOVEMBER

November saw the beginning of another of the extra curricular activities when the Annual Staff election was held.

Auburn's 1934 football squad did its last bit by adding Paulding, Ohio, to its list of victories by a score of 19-7.

Armistice Day was observed in a very interesting manner this year. First hand war experiences were related, after the singing of some lively World War songs. Mr. Walfred Lindstrom, District Commander of the American Legion, delivered the main address. Our own Mr. Schooley, of the Rainbow Division of the United States Army, lived over with us the first Armistice Day at the Front. Norma Updike read "In Flanders Fields" and the program closed with the singing of two more songs.

The drive to sell season basketball tickets was enthusiastically carried on. After a week of friendly rivalry the Juniors were pronounced winner by a very small margin with the Seniors running a close second.

After staging a series of tryouts, Miss Duguid announced the cast for "Laugh Clown," the Junior and Senior play to be presented the sixth and seventh of December.

Zeke proudly bestowed letter awards to twenty-two husky football fellows and their business manager.

It was rumored, at the time, that the family pet rabbit destroyed Mr. Weathers' zeal for the usual Thanksgiving hunt, but the remainder of the faculty and the school body enjoyed the short Thanksgiving vacation.

DECEMBER

Those wintry winds that blow, characterized December with all the merry skating parties, and of course, basketball.

"Father's Night" was most successfully observed by the High School P. T. A.

A large crowd attended the Junior-Senior play. "Laugh Clown" proved to be a comedy with numerous elements of humor and mystery.

The unusually large cast of fourteen characters was composed of Frances Close, Barbara Gordon, Ruth Lige, Lauren Walter, Dick Fink, Johnny Morris, Joan Hoff, Rovine Dawson, Gilbert Shull, Norma Updike, Charlotte Lochner, Basil McDougall, Robert Gumpp, and Ransom Phillips. The gate receipts exceeded those of the previous year by thirty dollars.

'Twas rumored that Zeke was well pleased with that birthday present—but weren't we all—for that South Bend five was a mighty foe.

The Red Devils lost to K'ville with a score of 28-19.

Mr. Fribley was named as a member of the State Control Board of Athletics.

Christmas was observed in school Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. After several songs and a talk by Mr. Fribley the Freshmen presented a play, "The Christmas Roses." The Boys' Chorus then favored with several novel musical numbers. To the tune of many "Merry Christmasses" the students gladly marched homeward to spend two delightful weeks of a long needed vacation.

It must have been too much turkey for the team was defeated by Marion, South Side, and Bluffton, during the two weeks vacation.

JANUARY

What a vacation—only to be ended by the tolling of the old school bell once again. The chief school activity, which occurred during this holiday season, was the basketball game with Central High School. Unfortunately, the score was 42-21 in Central's favor.

More entertainment! "Smiling Bob Briggs," by his clever Negro impersonations, helped many down-hearted souls to forget their troubles (and the 25 to 19 defeat which Decatur handed Auburn). The team made up for this defeat by winning over New Haven 27 to 24 in a thrilling game.

The second meeting of the History Club was held at the Y. M. C. A. with a large attendance and plenty of eats.

The first semester ended the 18th of this month and on the 23rd many woeful expressions were seen when the grade cards were distributed.

Qualifying honor roll members were then announced.

Auburn had one great event to look forward to. The city was chosen as the place in which the regional basketball tourney would be held.

Second semester officers were chosen for the Boys Hi-Y organization. Harold Stump was elected president; Tom Mason, Vice President; George Kingsbury, Secretary; and Basil McDougall, Treasurer, to succeed Joe Lumm, Jay Renz, Basil McDougall, and Howard McKenney, the out-going officers.

The most exciting event of the year was witnessed by the largest crowd of the season when Auburn defeated Garrett, their old rivals, by a score of 31-25.

FEBRUARY

The Auburn Basketball team journeyed to Angola only to meet defeat. The score was 22 to 10. However, the second team was victorious.

A change of luck! Hartford City was overcome in a battle with the Auburn Red Devils to the tune of 29 to 23. The second team won 29 to 17.

At the regular meeting of the History Club a very interesting program was presented in which the influence of newspapers and movies were discussed by Alberta Peele.

The McIntosh P. T. A. observed Founders Day in connection with their usual monthly meeting.

The Red Devils submitted to defeat by the Red Skins of North Side, 29-15. The second team was more successful and came out with a 22-21 victory.

Home Economics Club, Hi-Y Club, and History Club all held meetings.

The Auburn business men proposed a site for a permanent Athletic Field.

Another victory for Auburn, La-Grange was defeated 31-18. The second team also won.

The Auburn Rotary Club was entertained by a group of McIntosh students.

The final basketball game of the season was played here. Columbia City was the visiting team. The Eagles won 39-31.

Auburn scheduled to play the first game of the sectional tourney at Garrett with Orland at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

MARCH

Victories and more victories! Auburn defeated Orland, 42-10, Angola 21-17, Ashley 29-14, and Butler 22-17, to win the right to play in the regional tourney at Auburn.

Seven new basketball sweaters were seen floating around. That means Zeke made another one of his speeches in the assembly.

The six weeks Honor Roll was announced again.

Mentone won the regional tourney. Our hats off to you, Mentone. The total receipts of the tourney were very excellent.

Radio fans heard our Auburn quartette broadcast over WOWO in Fort Wayne.

Room ten was the scene of the discussion elimination. Those who took part were Charlotte Lochner, Norma Updike, Sally Thomas, Naomi Garman, and Roger Close.

To tour Europe on a bicycle or cut their way through the jungles of South America was a question many adventurers were deciding after hearing the "South American Speech."

Basketball Boys and other Auburn fans went to Indianapolis to witness the State Finals. Anderson won.

The Business Manager for Spring Athletic Activities was elected! A different face was now seen in front of the assembly on Monday mornings.

Members of the English Classes went to Fort Wayne to see Shakespearean plays at the Shrine Auditorium.

The county discussion contest was held in Auburn with Charlotte Lochner and Roger Close representing Auburn High.

The cast for the operetta, "Gypsy Troubadour," was selected.

Ruth Lige, Margarete Reed and Luella Tallen went to Fort Wayne to participate in the Indiana University Music Contest. Ruth Lige was victorious.

Zeke Young took Jess Myers to Indianapolis for the State Indoor Track meet.

APRIL

Mr. Coar entered Lavern Beckberger and Martha Close in the Algebra and Jack Smith and Ray Thomas in the Geometry Contests held in Fort Wayne. In the Sectional, Smith, Beckberger, and Thomas all placed, winning the privilege to compete in the state finals at Bloomington in the latter part of this month.

Helen Ruskin placed sixth in a nationwide essay contest based on the play, "Cleopatra."

The Senior Class was honored by a call from Dr. Bartlett of DePauw University on April 10th.

Charlotte Lochner successfully represents Auburn in the District Discussion Contest, which was held the eleventh day of April, by tying for second place.

"The Gypsy Troubador" was presented by a very capable cast in the little gym on April 25 and 26.

The district P. T. A. meeting was held in Auburn. One of the interesting features was the luncheon at noon.

April the nineteenth marked the date of the state finals in the Mathematics contest held in Bloomington.

The Annual Staff held several meetings to decide the last minute details for the Annual.

Auburn's opponents in track events during the month of April were Kendallville, Howe Military Academy, Bryan, Columbia City, and Bluffton.

MAY

The conference track meet was held May 4th and the sectional meet one week later. The State finals were held on May 18th.

The letter men of A. H. S. were given a big feed by the Auburn Hickory Club.

Spring Concert with all its splendid attractions was held in the Alumni Gym. In addition to the selections offered by the band and girls' chorus there were brass quartettes, trumpet quartettes, saxophone quartettes, and string double quartettes. The program started with the lively "Chicago Tribune March" by Phambres followed by "Poet and Peasant" Overture, "Light Cavalry," "Side by Side by the Sea-Side," "His Honor" and many more splendid productions.

Annuals were distributed to the waiting students. This meant joy to the students but dismay to the teachers who were still trying to continue classes in spite of the competition.

Sunday, May 19th, Dr. Wright delivered the Baccalaureate sermon at the Methodist Church. The music was furnished by the girls' chorus. Happiness mingled with sorrow with the realization that high school life was almost over.

The Seniors were entertained by the Juniors at the Annual Junior-Senior banquet held at Potawatomi Inn, May 14th. There were the usual stunning frocks, the usual dancing and bridge.

Senior girl graduates dined at the Auburn Country Club as guests of the Better Business Women's Club on May 21st.

Track letters were given out in the assembly by Coach Zeke Young. What splendid looking athletes we have when we see them all at once!

On May 22nd, Judge Fred G. Bale of Ohio, delivered the Commencement Address. The goal of four years was attained—diplomas! Of course the girls looked charming and the boys handsome.

Another chapter in the history of the school ended when the High School journeyed to Circle Park on May 24 for the annual last day picnic.

Activities

In the schools of bygone days there were no activities outside of the class room but now there are many which help greatly to keep the students interested in their work. Among these are music, discussion, History Club, Hi-Y, and others. From these each pupil may increase his ability and enjoyment. Under the heading of Activities we present: Band, Orchestra, Boy's Chorus, Girls Chorus, Glee Club, History Club, Boys Hi-Y, F. F. A., and others.

EDITORIAL

The FOLLIES of 1935 is a yearbook commemorating the founding of the first school for secondary education in Boston in 1635. In making the FOLLIES of 1935 we have endeavored to contrast the schools of then and now. In the good old days of the three "R's"—Readin', 'Ritin', and 'Rithmetic—the school life was dull and uneventful. Now in modern schools there is a varied scale of activities.

We have gone back to the full size book in making this annual, returned other old features, and have added several new. The contents have been returned to what we think is their rightful order and to a progressing world we give our yearbook in memory of the old times.

The size and content of this annual is not all that has been changed. The Crescent Engraving Company came to our aid in publishing this book, enabling us to use our hard earned money with greater economy. Mr. Jones, our old standby, aided us again this year by doing better than ever in all his work. The Auburn Printing Company furnished us good ideas and good printing.

Mr. Fribley deserves much credit in teaching the staff the whys and wherefores of publishing a yearbook and thereby shortened the long hours.

The faculty have kept their thoughts to themselves when it came to breaking into classes to take pictures.

So we have the FOLLIES of 1935 commemorating the three-hundredth anniversary of the founding of schools for secondary education in the United States.

HONOR GROUP

Unlike the early colonial schools where the curriculum was very limited, the modern school gives its students an opportunity to try many subjects and to select their favorite fields of work.

Some students make excellent marks in more than one of these subjects. From each class, the four students with the highest yearly averages are chosen. These students compose the year's Honor Group. In cases of ties, more are included.

This year's honor group consists of the following: Seniors: Charlotte Lochner, Genevieve Elson, Norma Updike, and Alice McClellan. Juniors: Robert Nelson, Joan Hoff, Alberta Peele, Bob Buchanan, and Eleanor Fribley. Sophomores: Jack Smith, Lavern Beckberger, Juanita Shimer, and Raymond Thomas. Freshmen: June Kuhlman, Martha Close, Willis Engle, Pierre Talbert, and Mary Ellen Hines.

The honor group is selected by picking four students with the highest grades for the year from each class. In case of ties the tying students are all included.

INTERSCHOLASTIC GROUP

Each year Auburn High selects the best of her students to participate in the interscholastic contests.

This year Charlotte Lochner, Norma Updike, Naomi Garman, Sally Thomas, and Roger Close competed in the local discussion contest. Lochner won first and Close second. Lochner and Close also rated first and second places in the county contest.

Double quartette is composed of Ruth Lige and Marguarete Reed, sopranos; Genevieve Elson and Geraldine Mason, second sopranos; Alice McClellan and Lucy Goodall, first altos; and Luella Tallen and Elizabeth Brown, second altos.

DeLoss Crooks won a trip to the State Fair for his good work in judging livestock.

Those pupils who were entered in the mathematics contest were Jack Smith and Ray Thomas for Geometry and Martha Close, Juanita Shimer, and Lavern Beckberger for Algebra.

Ruth Surfus and Maurice Wyatt were selected from the art group for their good work.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction and supervision of Mr. Wilcox, the orchestra has had a very successful year. Mr. Wilcox has made it a very much larger organization than it has been in previous years.

There are twenty-five members in all. Any high school student who can play an instrument suitable for an orchestra and can play it with some degree of accuracy and skill is eligible for membership.

The periods of practice are on Monday and Friday the last period in the day.

The orchestra has played for many school occasions such as the Junior-

Senior play and the High School operetta. It has also played at the theater and at social functions.

Favorite selections played quite frequently are: "Poet and Peasant," an overture by Suppe; "Cavalry," overture by Suppe; "Chicago Tribune March," by Paris Chambers.

Mr. Wilcox has a novelty arrangement in the orchestra this year. There are also two piano players—Alice McClellan and Ruth Shaffer.

Mr. Wilcox has planned to continue practice through the summer months so that the orchestra might play at social functions during vacation as well as during the school year.

Mr. Wilcox organized the High School band five years ago. During those years he has diligently worked with the pupils of both the high school and grades until he now has a band of thirty capable students.

The band has a very prominent part in school activities. One of their most appreciated features is playing for the basketball games. With help from Mr. Wilcox and his band and the aid of Max Shook we have been introduced to many new yells.

Outside of school functions, this organization has played at many clubs such as the Lions Club, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and others.

The Spring Concert, which is the main event of the year, is made up mostly of band selections. Mr. Wilcox is diligently working toward that occasion.

Some of the favored selections of the band are: "The Poet and Peasant," an overture by Suppe; "Chicago Tribune March" by Paris Chambers; "Cavalry," an overture by Suppe.

From the band Mr. Wilcox has arranged several instrumental novelty arrangements such as the drum and bugles, string quartet, brass quartet, and the saxophone quartet.

This organization continues practice through the summer months. Many out-of-door concerts have been given here in Auburn. Mr. Wilcox and his band have also been in Garrett, Ashley, Hudson, and other places giving concerts.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Under the direction of Miss Clarice McKinney the girls' chorus has progressed very rapidly this year.

The part of the group is made up of freshmen. However there are some Sophomores, enough to make a total of about thirty girls in the organization.

The group made several public appearances, such as the annual Parent-Teachers Association banquet in the gymnasium, the commencement exercises, and the one big event of the year—the county concert.

This year the concert was held at Spencerville on April the 10th. The members of the chorus, sang several selections and the double quartet, consisting of Ruth Lige, Marguarete Reed, Geraldine Mason, Genevieve Elson, Lucy Goodall, Alice McClellan, Luella Tallen, and Elizabeth Brown sang "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise." The harmony rendered by the several groups, showed careful training of the participants.

A few of the favored selections are as follows: "Sympathy," "By the Bend of the River," "Italian Street Song," "Slumber Boat," "Lift up Your Heads Oh Ye Gates," "Grant Me to Courage Oh Lord," "Silver Moonlight," "Bonnie Heather," and "My Old Kentucky Home."

BOYS' CHORUS

A new organization with Miss Clarice McKinney as director was introduced this year.

The Boys' Chorus has twenty-eight members, most of whom are Freshmen. This will enable Miss McKinney to make the boys' chorus one of the biggest and best musical organizations in the school.

The periods of practice are on Wednesday and Friday from one until two o'clock.

Some of the compositions most favored by the boys are as follows: "Chloe," "Bells of St. Marys," "Sunny Lou," "Lilac Tree," "Ole King Cole," "Breezin' Along With The Breeze," and

"Shine on Harvest Moon."

The boys have done some excellent work this year and have had many chances to sing at outside functions as well as school entertainments. Some of their appearances were at the Rotary Club, Commercial Club Banquet, The P. T. A. Banquet and the Auburn Music Club's monthly entertainment.

Jack Smith acts as pianist and has played at several of their public appearances.

There is no one department in the high school that has accomplished as much work in a year of musical training as the boys' chorus.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club under the direction of Miss Clarice McKinney, supervisor of music in the Auburn schools, is an organized group of the school's best voices. Admittance and membership in this club depends upon the ability of the entrant to pass a certain voice test prepared by Miss McKinney.

A few of the favored compositions are "Sympathy" from the light opera, "The Firefly" by Rudolf Friml, "By the Bend of the River," "Italian Street Song," "Day of Golden Promise" and the favorite, "Now the Day is Over." This famous song usually closes the rehearsals.

The Glee Club sang at several annual events such as: The County Chorus, Commencement exercises and Baccalaureate. This year Miss McKinney took several members from the Glee Club to Fort Wayne to sing at the Teachers' Convention.

There are eight members of the Glee Club that make up the double quartet. This includes Ruth Lige, Marguarete Reed, Geraldine Mason, Genevieve Elson, Lucy Goodall, Alice McClellan, Luella Tallen and Elizabeth Brown.

Those girls sang at Fort Wayne over WOWO, at the Music Club's monthly entertainment, Rotary Club and other places. Due to graduation four members will be gone: Ruth Lige, Geraldine Mason, Genevieve Elson, and Alice McClellan.

HISTORY CLUB

Students interested in this club met at the beginning of the second semester and chose the following officers: Joe Lumm, president; Gilbert Shull, vice president; Helen Ruskin, secretary-treasurer; and Genevieve Elson, assistant secretary-treasurer. Mr. Weathers was chosen as sponsor.

He appointed a program committee with Joe Lumm chairman, Helen Ruskin, Ruth Lige, Genevieve Elson, and Harold Stump, assistants. This committee with the help of Mr. Weathers planned the type of programs to be presented at the meetings.

The purpose of this organization was to study current events. Each meeting a different event was discussed and much knowledge was gained by contrasting other governments to our own.

The club met the first and third Monday of the month at the Y. M. C. A. The programs consisted of talks, music, occasional contests, and refreshments.

The club ended its fourteenth year under the sponsorship of Mr. Weathers. Only those students who had the average grade of "C" or higher from the Junior history classes or Senior civics classes were entitled to membership.

OPERETTA THE GHOST OF LOLLYPOP BAY

This operetta, by Charles Wakefield Cadman, was presented in the school auditorium, May 3 and 4, 1934, under the direction of Miss Clarice McKinney and Miss Gladys Duguid.

Miss Jemima Steele has established a summer camp on the shore of Lollypop Bay. Professor Alvin Flint established a similar school for boys on the opposite side of the lake. Social relations were very restricted.

Dinah, the colored maid, declared she had seen a ghost. This gave Mary, Midge, and Molly ideas. Miss Steele saw a ghost and threw herself into Professor Flint's arms. Dinah then longed for her lover. She wished to break up the school so she masqueraded as a ghost and found Mary acting as a ghost also.

In the second act Mary and Dinah discovered each other as ghosts. As the professor was about to unmask them, a third shrouded figure appeared. The ghost happens to be Dinah's Marcus. Professor Flint and Miss Steele married and combined their schools.

Part of the success of the operetta was due to the business staff, including: Harold Stump, Herbert Moore, LeRoy Close, and Faye Thomas. Advertising was taken care of by Miss Sellers. Miss Lucille Rhoads was in charge of make-up.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY LAUGH CLOWN

Laugh Clown, a mirthquake with elements of humor and mystery, was presented the nights of Dec. 6 and 7 under the direction of Miss Gladys Duguid.

Mrs. Hurley, a wealthy widow, was the mother of three children, Patricia and Evelyn at home and Arthur abroad. There were three servants, Mary the maid, and Aunt Sue who wouldn't marry the colored handy man, Uncle Jake, until he had saved $5.50. Fritz Benton, an ex-burglar, and his pal, Danny Polling, came in response to Mrs. Hurley's ad for a butler and a chauffeur and were hired.

Gallager Starling, who loved Arthur, visited Pat. Arthur returned from Europe with a fiancée, Dale Terrence. Dr. Pratt, who planned to marry Evelyn Hurley for her money, and Dale were ex-husband and wife. As Arthur was about to present Dale with a $40,000 diamond, the jewel was stolen. Dr. Pratt was found guilty but had won back the love of Dale. After earning $5.50, Uncle Jake finally obtained Aunt Sue's answer to marriage: Fritz and Mary planned a future; Gallager and Arthur knew they were meant for each other and Danny and Pat found happiness.

The business staff was: Darrell Grosh, business manager; Howard McKenney, Roger Close, and Marjorie Lawhead, stage and properties; Robert Nelson, electrician; Genevieve Elson, promptress; Miss Swain and Miss Haynes, costumes and make-up.

BOYS' HI-Y

The Boys' Hi-Y has completed another successful year under the guidance of Harry Kreider and Lloyd Miller. The club is sponsored by the Young Mens Christian Association and follows the motto: "Clean speech, clean athletics, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and love of God."

The initiation of new members into the club at the first of the year and the ice cream feeds later on were the highlights of the club's activities.

The officers during the first semester were: Joe Lumm, president; L. Jay Renz, vice president; Basil McDougall, secretary; and Howard McKenney, treasurer.

Those elected for the second semester were: Harold Stump, president; Tom Mason, vice president; George Kingsbury, secretary; and Basil McDougall, treasurer.

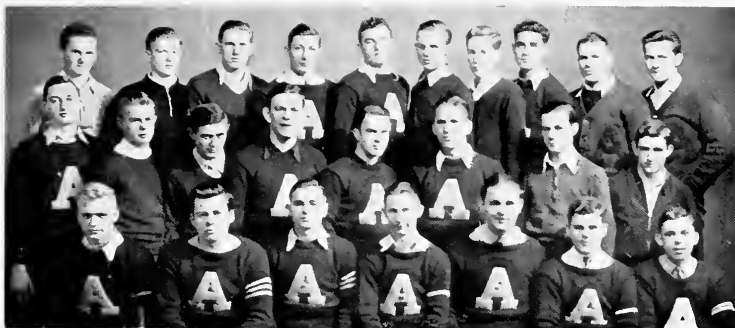

The club meets every other Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. The meetings consist of interesting talks, fellowship, and refreshments. Only Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores are eligible. At regular intervals new members are initiated into the club.

Interesting talks were given by Mr. Coar on College and Mr. Schooley on France.

The club sent three delegates to Fort Wayne in November. They were Joe Lumm, L. Jay Renz, and Howard McKenney.

LETTER AWARDS

Each year the boys of Auburn High who are outstanding in athletics receive awards for their efforts. Sports represented are: Track, football, basketball.

The track award is a white-winged A. Trackmen who are still in school and who received these A's for 1934 are: Preston Stackhouse, Lee Anderson, George Pulver, Harold Stump, Don Merchanthouse, Joe Lum, Denzil Myers, Walter Stebing, Chris Burns, Russell Williams, and Robert Sprague.

Six inch crimson chenille block A's were awarded to the football players. Those receiving them were: Pierre Talbert, Robert Sprague, Gervase Hess, Hubert Hines, John L. Graham, Wilbur Essley, Russell Williams, Everett Mavis, Chris Burns, Tom Mason, Dave Rodecap, Walter Stebing, Carl Stallman, Denzil Myers, John Morris, Don Merchant-house, Mahlon Rieke, Preston Stackhouse, Lawrence Chorpennning, George Pulver, Robert Berg, and Bud Phillips. Phillips was the business manager.

The most valued awards of the football players are the silver footballs. These were awarded to Hubert Hines, Walter Stebing, Chris Burns, George Pulver, Preston Stackhouse, and Harold Stump. Denzil Myers, Don Merchant-house, Robert Berg, Dave Rodecap and John Morris received silver footballs in previous years.

Players of the basketball team received crimson sweaters trimmed in grey. The players who received them this year were: Tom Mason, Dave Rodecap, Walter Stebing, George Reeder, Don Myers, Robert Berg, and Harold Stump.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The opening of the school year found thirty-three members on the Home Economics Club Roll. Any girl who is interested in Home Economics work may become a member.

Executives of the Club consist of Kathryn Blickenstaff as president; Marie Wilson, vice president, and program chairman; Norma Updike, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Ringler, recorder, and Miss Evelyn Swain, Sponsor.

Combined business and social meetings were held once a month under the auspices of reception committees. Those of October, November, and December being at the homes of Ruth M. Grogg, Kathryn Blickenstaff, and Clea McDaniel, respectively. January, February, March, and April meetings took place in the School Gymnasium, Marie Wilson, Norma Updike and Betty Warstler acting as the respective hostesses. Special monthly program numbers making the business meetings interesting and of value to every member included talks by Dorothy Slick, Carrie Reeder, Marie Wilson and Miss Haynes.

Club finances were supplied through the selling of candy, a bake sale, and club dues. The Club Pin is a motif in the club colors, silver and blue, bearing the initials of the Club and the year of membership.

Activities end this year with a Mother and Daughter Banquet during the month of May.

THE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

One of the most interesting, active and progressive organizations in Auburn High School is the Future Farmers of America.

This year, in this organization, many activities were carried on. Meetings were held on the first and third Thursday of each month at which talks on some phase of agriculture were given by different members of the organization. In these, parliamentary drill was always an important feature. This gave the boys information on conducting business meetings. One of the main events this year was the Father and Son meeting held on March 28, in keeping with the F. F. A. Father and Son's week. At this meeting interesting talks were given by members of the organization, followed by refreshments. Other outstanding occasions were: The attending of the district meeting in Angola, in which the Auburn members took part; and the pest hunt contest staged this spring.

This year thirty-four students enrolled in the F. F. A. This was about three-fourths of the entire agriculture class. The members contributed many exhibits at the county fair and the County Muck Crop Show. These brought a large share of first premiums.

Under the leadership of Mr. Hornaday the F. F. A. boys have succeeded in adding another successful year to their good record.

MANUAL TRAINING

SHOP

An unusually large number of Freshmen enrolled this year for the course in Manual Training. The time spent under Mr. Cosper's supervision is very profitable. One is taught not only to use his head but also to use his hands in acquiring useful knowledge.

The first week the boys are taught to use T squares, triangles, and their drawing sets, and how to apply them to their mechanical drawing. The rest of the first semester the boys are engaged in making all their own blue prints to be used in their wood working.

The second semester the boys are moved to the wood shop where they make many useful articles such as lamps, cedar chests, clothes racks, and many other things.

ART

The artistically minded students spend an hour every morning in the Art Room under the supervision of Miss Sellers, who is a graduate from the John Herron Art Institute with a B. S. Degree.

These Art students helped the Junior-Senior Play and Operetta by making posters for advertising.

The Art students also produce tooled leather bags, wall hangings, wood carvings, and block prints. Outdoor sketching was another part of class work.

This year ribbons were won at the Free Fall Fair by Maurice Wyatt and Ruth Surfus.

ART GROUP

SENIOR ENGLISH

SENIOR ENGLISH

There were twenty-four seniors taking Senior English this year under the instruction of Miss Dawson.

The first semester the class discussed the more important English writers and their works.

The second semester the class studied modern writers.

The class was comprised of: Norma Updike, Marjorie Lawhead, Dorothy

COMMERCIAL

The commercial group is composed of the best and most promising students in the three lines of commercial work—shorthand, bookkeeping, and typing.

In the shorthand group were: Esther Smith, Frances Close, Evelyn Rosenberry, Helen Bassen, Alice McClellan, Rovine Dawson, Ruth Grogg, and Georgia Vachon.

Margaret Hinsey, Esther Smith, Robert Berg, Charles Rainier, Alice McClellan, Rovine Dawson, and Evelyn Rosenberry made up the bookkeeping group.

The typing group consisted of Lee Anderson, Ruth Lige, Charlotte Lochner, Irene Loutzenhiser, Genevieve Elson, Marjorie Holben, Helen Ruskin, Rovine Dawson, Martha Kimmell, and Wilma Lige.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Girls' Athletic Association is a national organization and is found throughout the state.

The purpose of this club is to stimulate interest in girls health and physical activities and to promote ideals in the same.

Awards are given for outstanding ability shown in the different sports during the season. First award is a class numeral won by making the first team in three different sports. Second award is a school monogram won by making the first team in six different sports. Third award is a Black A won by making the first team in ten different sports.

Auburn High organized the G. A. A. Club in the year of 1934, and has very successfully carried it on this year.

Juniors

Sophomores

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Four major basketball teams were chosen this year which consisted of the four different classes—Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior.

An Inter-Class tournament was played after school in the big gym.

The Seniors played three games and won three which entitled them to the name of the "Champs." The Juniors were next with two games out of three and the other two classes tied for third place with one game out of three.

Noon League basketball was also organized this year and that appeared to be successful.

The Lilies and Cowslips tied for first place, each winning five games out of six.

SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES

Auburn High School will lose much of its talent by graduation this year, but there will be much left for 1935-36.

Among the Juniors are Robert Buchanan and Richard Fink who will continue on the annual staff next year. Gilbert Shull, Bob Buchanan, Basil McDougall, Richard Fink, Eleanor Fribley, and Joan Hoff will take roles in the dramatic productions of the school. High hopes are held in Russell Williams, Tom Mason, Don Myers, Jess Myers, Walter Stebing, George Reeder, and David Rodecap to uphold the athletic standards of Auburn High. Other Juniors like Roger Close and Naomi Garman will defend us in Discussion. In music Marguarete Reed, Lucy Goodall, and others will continue their good work.

In the Sophomore Class there are many who will continue to play in the orchestra and band, namely: Ray Thomas, Howard Foust, Virgil McNabb and others. Luella Tallen, Wayne Crpie and Kathryn Mefford will take parts in the Operetta and other musical activities. Ray Thomas, Jack Smith and Lavern Beckberger have made outstanding records in Math and it is hoped that Lavern will represent Auburn in the Geometry contests next year. Other Sophomores will take parts in Discussion and other curricular activities.

The Freshman Class has taken an active part in athletics, plays, operettas, vocational work and other activities, and provide promising material for next year.

With all these talented pupils we feel assured that Auburn High School will uphold its enviable standard.

Ye Games

Artistic

Athletics

Athletics in the schools of the past was not totally unknown for they had fencing, wrestling, a type of boxing, and other sports. In the schools of today there are not many of these sports in use, but in their places are football, basketball, baseball, and track. These sports serve as an outlet for pent-up energy for the student spectators as well as the players and enables those who engage in these sports to develop themselves both physically and mentally. Under the heading of Athletics we have put football, basketball, and track as the sports presented in modern schools.

COACH YOUNG

"Zeke" has been with us for eleven years and each year has turned out highly successful teams in football, basketball and track. He has succeeded in sending several basketball teams to the regional tourney. His track team was exceptionally good this year. His extensive knowledge of all athletics in a school that sponsors several sports cannot be over-estimated. We salute, "Zeke!"

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Auburn High School Athletic Association is an organization managed by the students and supervised by Mr. Schooley and Mr. Fibley. All students who purchase season basketball tickets or have been on an athletic squad are considered members. The officers who were elected this year were: Harold Stump, President; Mary Carper, Secretary, and Mr. Schooley, Faculty Treasurer. Each officer filled his position capably and willingly.

The Girls' Athletic Association which was organized last year elected Vivian Davidson, President; Dorothy McClintock, Vice President; Geneva Rinehold, Secretary; and Charlotte Lochner, Treasurer. They were ably advised by Miss Haynes who is a new-comer to the Auburn Faculty.

FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL CAPTAINS

The football squad was led by two captains this year. Jess Myers who held the position of fullback, governed the backfield while Bob Berg, who played either center or guard, controlled the line. They knew what plays to pull at the right time and how to pep the boys up when the team was disheartened.

Don Merchanthouse led the basketball team through to the regional tourney this year. He is a steady, dependable player. He will be missed on the squad next year.

Three athletic managers were elected this year. They were: Dave Williams, Track manager; Bud Phillips, Football manager, and George Pulver, Basketball manager. They accompanied the teams on all trips and "managed." Jud's talks before the assembly were real pep talks. He fairly lived with the team and therefore gave us the straight dope on each game they played.

The old saying "Dynamite comes in small packages" does justice to Max Shook, our little but mighty yell leader. Max always kept the fans awake and ready to boost the team at all times. He will be back next year.

FOOTBALL

Last fall, approximately fifty students turned out for practice on the gridiron. Veterans and recruits spent many hours of hard work in hopes of filling a position on the varsity eleven.

The season opened here on September fifteenth. The plunging of the Decatur speedy backs and the muddy field helped to spell defeat for the Red Devils.

The following Saturday the Red Devils came back and defeated the Columbia City eleven in a hard fought game. Jess Myers, fullback, was confined to the bench this game due to injuries.

The next Friday night the Red Devils traveled to Fort Wayne to invade the camp of the North Side Redskins. The Auburn line was unable to stop the fleet-footed Redskins and we suffered a 25-0 defeat. The next week, being fair week, Auburn had no scheduled game and the boys were given a short vacation over the week-end.

Auburn next traveled to Bluffton to be defeated 18-0 by Bluffton's powerful all letterman team. Auburn next traveled five miles west for the big game of the season, Auburn vs. Garrett. This game proved to be a thriller to the last minute. Auburn however showed their superiority by a 14-0 score.

FOOTBALL

The following Saturday the team again traveled to Fort Wayne. This time to meet the Central Tigers. The Auburn team was unable to stop the hard driving Central team and lost by a 13-0 margin. Auburn played the last game of the season with Paulding, Ohio. This proved an easy game and the Red Devils won, 19-7.

Varsity letters were awarded to twenty-two boys this year: Robert Sprague, Pierre Talbert, Gervase Hess, Hubert Hines, John Graham, Tom Mason, Russell Williams, Lawrence Chorpensing, Chris Burns, Everett Mavis, Denzil Myers, Donald Merchanthouse, Mahlon Rieke, David Rodecap, Walter Stebing, Preston Stackhouse, Harold Stump, Carl Stallman, John Morris, Wilbur Essley, Robert Berg, and George Pulver.

Those who received silver footballs this year were: Hubert Hines, George Pulver, Walter Stebing, Preston Stackhouse, Harold Stump, and Chris Burns. Wilbur Essley, David Rodecap, John Morris, Donald Merchanthouse, Denzil Myers, and Robert Berg had previously been awarded these trophies.

Tommy is undoubtedly one of the fastest cutting men on the team. His fast work and keen basket-eye should make points next year.

DON MYERS, "Prox," Guard

Prox, a junior, should be a valuable man next year. With his height and under-the-basket shooting ability he is a tough man to guard.

DENZIL MYERS, "Jess," Forward

The biggest man on the team, Jess, is fast and shifty on the floor. He is also good for his share of the points.

WALTER STEBING, "Walt," Forward

Walt plays either forward or center. He is one of the hardest driving men on the team.

HAROLD STUMP, "Stumpie," Guard

The cool playing of Stumpie this year exerted a steady influence on the team. His defensive play was outstanding.

BASKETBALL

ROBERT BERG, "Bob," Guard

This was Bob's first and last year on the squad. On defensive playing he took care of his man.

RUSSEL WILLIAMS, "Sammy," Center

With his height and under the basket shooting, Sammy will be a tough man to guard on that center position next year.

PRESTON STACKHOUSE, "Stack," Center

Although small for a center, Stack was able to hold his own against most of the opposing centers this year. His defensive work kept their scores down.

GEORGE REEDER, "George," Guard

George, the smallest man on the team, is a good ball handler and a good guard. He also has a habit of dropping in a couple of baskets when needed.

DAVID RODECAP, "Denver," Forward

Denver plays either guard or forward. His accurate one-handed pivot shots were outstanding this year and will come in very handy next year.

SECOND TEAM

Auburn started the season by winning from Ashley 26 to 23 but the following week-end fell victim under the hands of Avilla, 22 to 19.

Then traveling southwest to Wabash the boys were handed the worst defeat of the season, 22 to 4.

On November 28, the team traveled to Butler and won by 26 to 13. The following Friday a rough and tumble game was lost to Goshen.

Auburn again showed her superiority by defeating the powerful Riley team from South Bend, 27 to 24, also the Kendallville Meteors, 21 to 13.

Dec. 21 the team was handed their fourth defeat of the season by the fast-breaking South Side team, score 37-33.

On December 22, the first day of Christmas vacation, the team lost a hard fought game to Marion, 28 to 25. They came back the following week-end to beat Bluffton, 25 to 20.

The last game of the Christmas vacation, the boys were unable to click and were easy prey for the powerful Central team of Fort Wayne, 14 to 32. The Decatur Yellow Jackets coming to Auburn for the first game of the New Year, defeated Auburn, 31 to 18.

The next week the team journeyed to New Haven and defeated them by a score of 29 to 17. On January 25 the team met their old rivals, the Rail-roads. This proved to be an easy victory for Auburn, winning 32 to 17.

February 1 Auburn met Angola. This was a thrilling game till the last gun cracked but Auburn proved to be best by winning 31-25. February 2, Auburn defeated the powerful Hartford City team, 29-17.

Next week at North Side, Auburn defeated the Red Skins in what proved to be the most thrilling game of the season, 22-21. Playing their last two games at home, Auburn defeated LaGrange, 24-14, and a powerful Columbia City team, 21-13, thus ending a successful season.

NOON LEAGUE

Noon League and inter-class basketball attracted much attention this year. Many students habitually spent their noon hours in the gym supporting favorite teams.

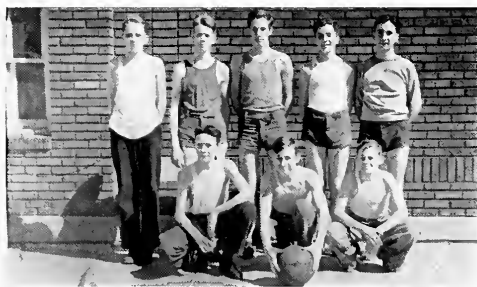

These activities provide an opportunity for every one in High School to play basketball. They are also a fine source of entertainment for the students.

Inter-class games were played on Monday and Tuesday and the regular Noon League games on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. An intense rivalry characterized the competition for the inter-class championship. The Sophomore class finished in the lead, with the Senior team second. The players on the Sophomore team were Poppele, Burns, Cripe, Gingrich, Winebrenner, and Hines. Lumm, Anderson, B. Pulver, G. Pulver, Edwards and Phillips composed the Senior team.

The team, known as the P and G squad, captained by Lee Anderson, won the Noon League competition. This team lost only two games all season and was composed of Lee Anderson, Fink, Cripe, Poppele, H. Craven, Stebing, K. Marks, and M. Shook. The teams named Lifebuoy, Castile and Lux, which were captained by G. Pulver, Miller, and Edwards respectively, tied for second. The tournament, played after the regular season, was also won by Lee Anderson's team. The tournament for inter-class basketball was won by the Sophomore class.

TRACK

Nearly forty boys answered Coach Young's call for track athletics last spring. From the number of boys the Coach selected 18 boys to represent the Auburn High School in track and field events. Auburn opened the track season with a dual meet against Goshen. Our thinly clad made a good showing under the leadership of Captain Jess Myers. They easily won the meet, $57\frac{1}{2}$ to $33\frac{1}{4}$.

The following week the team entered another dual meet with Kendallville. This meet was held in the Garrett field, Thursday, April 21 and proved to be a pushover for the Red Devils winning $81\frac{1}{2}$ to $32\frac{1}{2}$. Auburn took first place in every event except pole vault and Myers tied with Bushong for first place in this event.

For the next meet Auburn traveled eastward to Ohio, accepting the invitation of Bryan for a triangular meet in which Bryan, Hicksville and Auburn were entrants. The Red Devils again scored $61\frac{1}{4}$ points to win the meet. Bryan placed second with 36 points to Hicksville's third with $17\frac{3}{4}$.

North Side again entertained the conference track meet. This was the first time in five consecutive years that Auburn had not won this event. The powerful South Side team came through with high honors while Auburn placed 4th in the list.

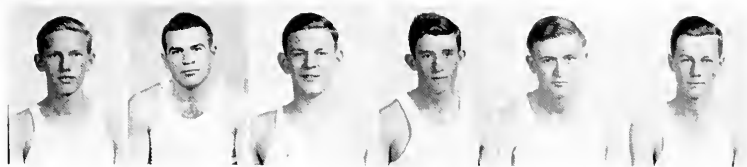

The Sectional, held at South Side, May 12, was the last meet of the season. Auburn placed 4th in this meet, qualifying Myers for the State Finals. Myers was entered in the Shot Put and the Broad Jump.

Myers failed to place in the State out-door meet probably due to nervousness or old fashioned "buck fever."

At the end of the season, Walter Kruse, Frank Ramsey, Preston Stackhouse, Gordon Mefford, George Reeder, Emmett Anderson, Robert Sprague, Russell Williams, Harry Brandon, Chris Burns, Joseph Lumm, Walter Stebing, Kenneth Graham, Donald Merchant-house, Robert Merchanthouse, William Kreider, Denzil Myers, and Harold Stump were awarded letters.

SUMMARY OF ATHLETICS

Looking forward to next year we expect a good athletic record, notwithstanding the loss of several of our best athletes. We will lose some valuable men from football, basketball, and track but there are others who will step into their shoes.

Mason, Don Myers, W. Stebing, Sammy Williams, Reeder, and Rodecap will be back on the hardwood next winter. Jess Myers will be eligible the first part of the season. Due to the state association rule will needs quit the game as he passes out of his nineteenth year. Buchanan, Ferguson, Burns, both the Millers, Cripe, Dewitt, Gingrich, and Winebrenner are good players in the making and will carry on.

Jess Myers will be in his usual back position on the football squad. Out of the fifty men on this year's pigskin brigade only ten or a dozen leave by graduation. Some good husky boys are to come over from Junior High. Seven football engagements are on the slate for next fall, including a new opponent—Huntington. The big final game—against Garrett—will be played in Auburn. The season opens September 14 with Decatur, there.

Ligonier and Albion will be re-instated on the basketball schedule, and a couple of far away teams will be dropped. Track includes a trip to Howe Military School, and possibly a meet in South Whitley. The usual track engagements with Fort Wayne, Kendallville, and Garrett are scheduled.

Dirty Work Suspected of Coach and Referee

The Gump coached Muncie Bear Cats have just returned from the Butler Field House, the state High School Basket Ball champions for the year 1935. You see their coach Andrew Cue Ball Gump posing with the eminent official, Lloyd Miller, formerly of the Ashley Tigers.

It is the opinion of many of the fans and coaches who witnessed the state finals, that there may have been some underhand work going on between these two masterminds; which supposition may account for Muncie's victory. Gump and Miller have lately been reported have come out of the Muncie State bank, with Miller counting over an enormous roll of bills, and planning how many kiddie-kars it would purchase.

This photo of the Muncie five was snapped after their victory over the Mooresville Corn-huskers in the finals at Indianapolis. You can detect the satisfied smile of victory on their faces, by looking carefully. The team was composed of Cocky Lad Walter, Dash Boy Hornaday, Squat Lumm, Tubby Grosh, and as usual Coach Andrew Cue Ball Gump held up his trustworthy position of draw back for dear old Muncie.

As their looks and actions indicate, the boys on the squad are all Freshmen and the Muncie team will again be strong contenders for the state title in 1936 (if Miller is the official, and Gump's funds hold out!)

SUBEXPLORER REACHES INDIES

New Passenger Routes to be Developed

Sir Budde Phillips, late of the navy, effected an under continent exploration from New York to Sitka, Alaska, and thence to Bombay, last week, according to reports just received in the home offices. New passenger routes are to be developed soon, Phillips to be chief conductor.

Sir Budde used his underwater kayak, made from skins of the wild goose, in the under continent passage. Refueling was done beneath Auburn, Indiana, where Cedar Creek connects with the catch basin between the gymnasium and the high school building. Phillips said he knew this was the place for he recognized the chemistry laboratory fumes washed into the basin here.

The trip was exciting, as may be expected, and was most difficult under the Rocky mountains, due to their enormous weight upon the under continent waters. The Phillips kayak barely cleared a passage under the greater part of the range.

New Youth Restorer Recently Perfected

Professor Schooley, Wizard Walter, and Brain Trust Clarke have discovered a new youth restorer guaranteed to take any one back to his younger days. These three super-scientists have devoted their entire life to perfecting this marvelous invention.

Several have tried this new wonder and it has been rumored about that this youth restorer is made up of potassium cyanide, denatured alcohol, a generous portion of assembly ink and strychnine. This compound is guaranteed by the inventors to cure old age.

The entire public breathlessly awaits the outcome of the tests made by the three eminent scientists on guinea pigs and themselves.

Phillips has planned to market used Latin ponies in the far east and has contracted to dispose of all ponies already stripped of cover and provender. The under continent passage is of particular advantage for such an esoteric profession.

HEARD AND OVERHEARD

That great big blushing, bashful Bob Gump has been reported as having moved down close to the Presbyterian parsonage. This makes it possible for Bobby to be home by his usual time, 8:30.

There will be a special meeting of the Barber Shop Coaching League, after the game Friday night to determine the startling line-up for next year.

It seems that ladies as well as gentlemen prefer blondes, at least that Mary Ellen Hines looks at it, and is Mahlon Rieke ever glad.

Fat Berg sure changed this year toward the girls. Dorothy Maxwell surely does have a grip on him, and we always thought before that he was a woman hater.

A NEW PROFESSION

The vocational guidance class of the Auburn high school has lately discovered possibilities in a new business: that of disposing of the waste paper and borrowed books found in the student desks in the Assembly.

The number of non-returned books reaches the thousands during the course of a school year. Some people borrow from their best friends, in expectation that the friends will come after the books and look after their property. Others borrow from neighbors just in order to be walking around in the room.

The books could be added to the lost and found department and a small fee extracted of the owner who left his stuff in his desk. The waste paper would be used to start a new local industry—compounding it into lumber and building materials. Enough old paper and handkerchiefs are left in the desks to build another postoffice in Auburn.

The advanced mathematics class was one of the smaller classes this year due to the fall off in prospective engineering students. This necessitated each member working at the blackboard pretty often, and the continued raising of the right arm chalking propositions on the board has left a permanent raised right hand, palm extended. This being the Hitler salute, these boys have already been offered posts of importance in the Reichswehr.

ENORMOUS FIRE RUINS SCHOOL

Tuesday morning, April 54, at nine P. M. a large conflagration was discovered in one of the lockers on the second floor. This fire spread rapidly and burned up all the lockers, door knobs, and even the fire gong, but did not harm the books, desks, or enormous piles of waste theme paper reserved by the pupils for spitballs. The heat from this fire was so great that the Auburn City Fire Department could not successfully combat the rising flames. The students of the school all hope that it will be rebuilt by 1950.

Sir Phillips learned the under continent passageway while advertising manager of the Follies of 1935. Looking for old plates and engravings under the stairs of the McIntosh building it is thought that Sir Budde got his foot into it.

YOUNG ATTEMPTS NEW SPEED RECORD

Sir Malcolm Young to Make Another Trial

The world will soon have a new motorcycle speed king, as Sir Malcolm Young attempts to better his previous mark of 276 miles per hour. He has the late model of his remade "Turtle" at Hamilton beach at the present time waiting for the wind and tide to get the beach leveled off and in condition for his daring trial. He lately took the "Turtle's" motor apart to repair a leak in the water mains and when he assembled it, he found that there was no room for the carburetor. This, however, did not worry the speed king since he calculated that the lessened weight of his machine, minus the carburetor would help him to establish a new record. In fact, the daring young idol of American racing fans plans to remove several other parts of the motor that to him seem to be unnecessary weight.

Many of Sir Malcolm's close friends and relatives are imploring him to give up his dangerous undertaking, but when a Young's mind is made up it is made up. They maintain that his life is too valuable to the dear old A. H. S. athletic squads. It is rumored that some members of his barber shop coaching staff are going to put a great number of tacks in his course, so that they may be promoted to his position; since a slight swerving in his course might send him where it is too hot to ride motorcycles.

The two suspicious looking characters in the picture are Young's right and left hand henchmen, (and also proud fathers) Miller and Coar. They are to be the official timers for the speed trials, so, Sir Malcolm will no doubt be successful in establishing a new record.

It is also interesting to note, that the "Turtle" will be fueled by gas from the Gump - Wilcox refineries, producers of the famous "Shur-gro" hair restorer. Many people will be on hand for the trials, and if a new record is made, Young plans a barnstorming tour of the United States to last about nine months.

Three Famous Crapshots Get Together in Well Known Haunt

Here we see the Three World Famous Crapshots in a well known underworld haunt. It has been rumored that Weathers and Zeigler are training for long distance runs from the cops by missing rabbits that they shoot at, then run them down. Cosper is the only real crapshot here since he never misses.

This picture was snapped by our super-sleuth, Eagle Eye Fribley with his special XYZ Camera, when these three were looking. Fribley told us on the inside that this picture was for publicity only.

AUBURN MIDGET SNATCHED

Abductors Not Known. Suspicion Points to the Tiger Kid

On the 54th of last October, at about 11:35 p. m.
a vile and dastardly crime was committed, the horror of which has kept the minds of the horror stricken public in a state of confusion and uproar.

This horrible crime was none other than the kidnap-ing of Midget Charleswood, Auburn's 250 pound flash,
from his boudoir last Monday night.

An account of the crime
was given by Pansy Pulver, the modest nursemaid of the infant.

"I was just preparing my red flannel night-gown when a piercing scream assailed my nostrils. I immediately donned my track shoes and did the 220 to the infant's room. As I opened the door
I caught a glimpse of the kidnapers' hoof as it disappeared through the open window. A sight of confusion met my ears and memories of that horrible scream flashed through my hat rack.
Everything was in perfect order except for the frayed piece of anchor chain on the floor which Midget had evidently bitten in two when the kidnapers tried to bind him. (P.S. The anchor chain was used instead of the usual platinum wire because of the depression and the high price of platinum.) No traces of the kidnapers' fingerprints were in evidence, although the middle front track of a hippo was plainly visible on the ceiling. In my confusion, I hiccupped and awakened the entire household, and immediately thereafter I telephoned Herlock Jolmes Weathers of the local police force, and from there on he took charge of the case."

After looking over the situation Weathers casually remarked that he could track down the kidnapers just as easily as he catches History book snatchers. After pausing to inform the gallery that was following him that he was formerly with the largest 5 & 10 cent store in Minneapolis, and that the life of a training camp soldier is just as strenuous as the life of a soldier on the front lines, he jumped into his coffee grinder and took off in pursuit of the abductors.

It is reported that Charleswood was spirited away by Lipstick Mason, a notorious gun moll and vamp of the underworld, and Weathers feels confident that an arrest will be made soon.

CRIMINAL RING EXPOSED

Large Number of Daring Hold-ups Blamed on Baby Face Moughler and Henchmen

A daring roundup of several notorious bandits and desperadoes took place yesterday in one of the beer tavern haunts, just in the outskirts of Mooresville, late yesterday. The mob was discovered and reported by two prominent Mooresville beauties, Alice Donaldson, and Joan Swartz. The gang was captured only after a furious gun battle between the police and the bandits, during which twenty-four policemen were wounded but none were killed, because they were all shot in the head, and you can't hurt a "bull" in the head.

The young ladies who gave away the gang's secret hide-out are reformed gun molls, who are just trying to get along. You will remember them from the daring daylight robbery they engineered and were a part of, last September, when this pair, disguised as a couple of farmers' daughters entered the Auburn Police Station and made off with several machine guns and bullet proof vests. It was rumored that several members of this gang were seen in the vicinity of the Auburn Fieldhouse during the Regional Tournament. It is also interesting to note that during the tournament the cash drawers of the fieldhouse were supposed to have been robbed. The leader of the gang, Baby Face Moughler casually remarked, however, that the only reason that they didn't pull the job at Auburn was because it would have been too easy. In fact Moughler said, "Aw, we just didn't have the intestinal fortitude to take candy away from kids."

The nation can rightfully feel greatly relieved at their capture, and many people can stop carrying their door keys and go back to putting them in the mailboxes as they ordinarily did.

Reading from top to bottom in the picture there is: Tuffy Thomas, Shorty Esselburn, Shrimp Heffley, Mug Kuller, Knifer Zeisloft, and Baby Face Moughler.

F. Close: "Why was Adam considered the fastest runner of his time?"

G. Elson: "He was first in the human race."

Zeke got such a reputation for stretching the truth that he bought a pair of scales and insisted on weighing every fish he caught in front of an eye witness.

One day a doctor borrowed Zeke's scales to weigh a new-born baby. The baby weighed 47 pounds.

"Is it true that man is made of dust?" asked Dick Fink, back from Sunday School.

"Yes," answered his mother, "but why do you ask?"

"Because, if it's true, there will soon be a man under the bed in the spare bedroom."

Mr. Weathers (in history): "What is the lower house called?"

Bob Paulsen: "The basement."

Son: "Do you know, dad, that in some part of Africa a man doesn't know his wife until he marries her?"

Father: "Why single out Africa?"

Clerk in 5 & 10c Store: "You can have anything in here for a dime."

R. Berg: "I'll take that little blonde behind the candy counter."

Umpire: "Over the fence is out."

E. Smith: "When do you expect him back?"

L. Walters: "Isn't she a fine singer?"

G. Pulver: "Yes, she can carry the tune alright but she can't load it."

Fribley: "So your son left college on account of poor eyesight?"

Mr. Merchanthouse: "Yes, he mistook the dean of women for a co-ed."

The annual staff and Mr. Fribley were bothered considerably while the annual was in progress by two of our honor roll sophomore student doves, about a picture that was snapped by Mr. Fribley after school hours, which happens to be on page 39.

It did seem funny that Darrell Grosh had to work in Mr. Fribley's office so much this year, didn't it Esther?

In order to have a winning half miler in George Pulver, Zeke should install cameras on every turn.

M. Rieke: "Oh, doctor, I'm so sick—if I could only die."

Mr. Weathers: "Bob, if you don't get your Economics what do you expect to do in life."

Bob: "I would like to be a bone specialist."

Weathers: "You seem to have a good head for it."

Mr. Schooley: "What steps would you take if this poisonous gas should escape?"

Bid Ranney: "Long ones!"

Phillips, after the track meet: "Darrell, that half mile of Pulver's was the tightest race I ever saw."

Grosh: "Don't kid yourself, look at young McKenney there. He is Scotch, and they are the tightest race I ever saw."

"QUALITY ALWAYS"

This motto applied to our manufacturing program has enabled The Auburn Rubber Corporation to more than treble its volume in the past two years.

More Quality Sport Shoes were finished with Auburn Soles and Heels this season than any previous year.

More Auburn Cement Applied Soles were made the past year than any previous year period—more than 800,000 pairs monthly.

Auburn's Quality Line of Rubber Products is rapidly gaining recognition in all commercial trade channels.

B. Douglas: "My father was a railroad engineer."

B. Chorpenning: "Yeah! You look like his first wreck."

Esther had just taken the new typist job.

Employer: "You understand the value of punctuation, do you not?"

Esther: "Oh yes. I always get to work on time."

Fribley, trying to get one of the football boys thru biology examination: "What is the color of brown alga?"

Poppele: "I don't know."

Fribley: "Correct, Dick, you don't know. Your answer was right."

Doris Coyle had a letter to mail and wished to go across the street to the mail box, corner of 15th and Main. She asked Mr. Gumpp in the Assembly for permission.

"No," said Mr. Gumpp, "it's raining."

Doris: "Would you say it's not fit to turn a dog out, wouldn't you?"

A few minutes later Doris was seen trying to get a freshman boy to go mail the letter.

D. Merchanthouse: "It seems to me, my dear, that there is something wrong with th's cake."

E. Rosenberry: "That shows you know nothing about it, darling. The cook book says it's perfectly delicious."

Bob Buchanan, on being asked how it was that his uncle always won when he played cards but lost when he backed horses, promptly answered: "Uncle can't shuffle horses."

Miss Haynes: "I am starting a school to teach young ladies to be good wives. Do you think you'd care to send your daughter?"

Mrs. Lige: "Do you guarantee?"

Weathers: "What do you mean by saying that Benedict Arnold was a janitor?"

Sammy Williams: "Our book says that after his exile he lived in a basement."

Boy: "Past."

Prof: "How many season in the year are there?"

J. Myers: "There are three, professor, football, basketball, and track."

Two busts of Caesar are displayed in the Trophy Case in the high school corridor. They appear rather different: perhaps, after the Lime Kiln Club of negro days, a skull of St. Peter when he was a small boy and another when he was an old man.

D. Slick: "How can you make ice water without ice?"

I. McClellan: "Peel an onion and you will have your eyes water."

Merchanthouse, describing the speed of the Auburn: "Do you see that dog of mine on the backseat? Well, when I get going, that bulldog looks like a dachshund."

The class was studying magnetism. "Mahlon," asked Mr. Schooley, "how many natural magnets are there?"

"Two, sir," was the surprising answer. "And will you please name them?" "Blondes and brunettes, sir."

Band practice—McNabb speaking: "Harold, what is the next piece we play?"

Palmer: "The Lost Chord."
Virgil: "Heavens, I just got through playing that."

In civics class: "Bud, come over here to study, the light is better, and you can study twice as much."

Bud: "But, Mr. Weathers, I haven't twice as much to do."

While Zeke was fishing in a large creek Mr. Weathers accosted him and inquired:

"How are the fish today Zeke?"

"Well," he said, "I don't know. I dropped them a line but got no reply."

Traffic Cop: "What is the matter with you?"

P. Stackhouse: "I'm alright, thank you, but my engine is dead."

Grandpa Gump: "What is Bobbie taking up in school this year?"

Mr. Gump: "Nothing but space—nothing but space."

G. Hess: How's the new incubator?

Sis Davidson: Well, I guess it's alright but I'm a little worried about it. It hasn't laid an egg yet.
